AMUSEMENTS.

"DAD'S GIRL" AT ENGLISH'S.
An elegant and well-pleased audience witnessed the second presentation of "Dad's Girl" at English's last night. Never before has a better balanced company been seen in a more perfect piece of dramatic work as Miss Lizzie May Ulmer and support in "Dad's Girl." Mr. George Boniface as "Dad," Mr. George Ames as "Joe," Mr. Harry Robinson in the comedy part of "Vasco de Gama Biles," are perfection personified. Miss Ulmer as "Moll" sways the audience at will; one minute she brings the tears of sympathy welling to the eyes, the next they are forced back by her cute and sparkling gaiety, bright as the sun.

The following attractions are billed for next week: George C. Miln in "Foot's Revenge" and "Macbeth," Monday and Tuesday nights; "Her Atonement," Wednesday night; "Baker and Paxon," "The Two Emigrants," the last three nights of the week. Commencing March 2 the Hearns "Hearts of Oak" combination for the full week at the low rate of fifty, twenty-five and fifteen cents admission.

GOODWIN AT THE GRAND.

"Standing room only," was the unwelcome placard created by the late comers at the Grand Opera House last night, and there was precious little of that. The popular comedian, Nat Goodwin, and his excellent company, again appeared in "Those Bells" and "Confession," and a more delighted audience never witnessed a performance in this city. Mr. Goodwin, in the dual roles of "Mathias" and "Blizzard," kept his audience convulsed with laughter all the time he held the stage and by the most natural methods. He is a thorough comedian, and his versatility almost amazes to genius. He was again excellently supported by Miss Waters, Miss Deloro, Miss Weatherly, Miss Holloway, and Messrs Reynolds, Coate, Fisher, Seabrooke and E. F. Goodwin. "Those Bells" and "Confession" will be repeated at the matinee this afternoon, and tonight the bill will be changed to "Confession" and the roaring farce, "To O'Leary Benson." Everybody should see Goodwin.

NOTES.

Alice Oates matinee at the Zoo to-day.
"Dad's Girl" matinee at English's to-day at 2 o'clock.

Only Nat Goodwin matinee at the Grand to-day at 2 o'clock.

Seats for Miln's appearances are now ready at English's Opera House box office.

Vice President Hendricks witness! Nat Goodwin's performance from box B, at the Grand, last night.

The attraction at the Grand the last half of next week will be the great Union Square, New York, success, "Three Wives to One Husband." It comes highly recommended. Miss Hattie Deloro, the charming and vivacious ingenue of the Goodwin Company, does a clever bit of acting as "Violet," in "Confession," and looks "just too sweet for anything."

The sale of seats for the engagement of the "Two Johns" Comedy Company at the Grand, the first half of next week, opened yesterday at the theater box office, and was quite good.

This is "children's day" at the Dime Museum, and all the little folks in town will be there to see the African Pigmies and the Rhinoceros Opera Company in "Little Red Riding Hood."

Miss Adele Waters, the leading lady of the Goodwin Company, is the brilliant and accomplished Californian whom Joseph Murphy brought from the coast a few seasons ago. She has only been on the stage a short time, but her talents have placed her in the very front ranks.
